

UHS MEDIA CENTER VIDEO COLLECTION

100s PHILOSOPHY & PSYCHOLOGY

150 Dis	Discovering psychology Programs 1-26 [videorecording]	DVD
152.4 Thi	This emotional life [videorecording (DVD)] : in search of ourselves...and happiness	DVD	This program explores ways to improve our social relationships, cope with emotional issues, and become more positive, resilient individuals in these difficult times.
153.1 Sec	Secret of the wild child [videorecording]	VHS
153.4 Hea	Headjam: math, science & critical thinking skills /VHS (Videotape)	DVD
153.4 Why	Why didn't I think of that? [videorecording] : creative problem solving	VHS	Describes both the attitudes and practical skills needed for creative problem solving.
153.69 Bod	Roll call review #24 [videorecording] : what every street cop needs to know about body language	DVD	Subjects who are potentially violent almost invariably display physical signs that they are volatile. This DVD shows how to detect physical displays of anxiety or anger.
155.2 Dev	Developing healthy self-esteem [videorecording]	VHS
155.2 Sel	Self-concept:, [videorecording] : how I know who I am	VHS	Explores the idea that the self comprises two parts, the basic inner self and the self the individual thinks others see. Details ways in which self-concept is formed, how it affects behavior, and how it can change.
158 Com	Common mistakes people make in interviews [videorecording]; and how to avoid them.	DVD	An interesting and effective program that helps job seekers anticipate what interviewers are looking for so they do not make the common mistakes of most job seekers.
158.39 Art	Art of the interview [videorecording] .	DVD	Documentary film about Emmy Award winning writer, director, and documentary producer Patti Obrow White; it explores the art and science of conducting journalistic interviews.
158.39 Top	Top 9 1/2 interview tips [videorecording].	VHS	This magazine format video series is packed with full motion video, colorful graphics and great music and covers a variety of today's hot topics.
170 Bat	In re Michael Martin [videorecording] : a battle over life support	VHS	"Today, medical technology enables us to keep people alive in situations that once would have meant their deaths. This situation often leads to painful decisions on how far we should go to keep seriously hurt or ill patients alive. Michael Martin was so badly injured that he could not make healthcare decisions for himself. His wife insisted that she had promised him she would allow him to die if he should ever become totally dependent on others. Yet, Michael Martin, though clearly incapacitated, was not unconscious. Should he be kept alive or should he be allowed to die?--Container.
172.2 Jus	Justice [videorecording] : what's the right thing to do?	DVD	Justice is one of the most popular courses in Harvard's history. Now it's your turn to take the same journey in moral reflection that has captivated more than 14,000 students, as Harvard opens its classroom to the world. In this twelve part series, Sandel challenges us with difficult moral dilemmas and asks our opinion about the right thing to do. He then asks us to examine our answers in the light of new scenarios. The results are often surprising, revealing that important moral questions are never black and white. This course also addresses the hot topics of our day--affirmative action, same-sex marriage, patriotism and rights--and Sandel shows us that we can revisit familiar controversies with a fresh perspective.
174 Eth	Ethical issues in professional life : Ethics and the legal profession. [videorecording]	DVD	Discusses confidentiality, ethics, attorney-client privilege, duties of lawyers, conflict of interest and the law and lying.
179.7 Sil	Silence of the heart [videorecording]	VHS	Chad Lowe plays a teenager who commits suicide after deciding he can't cope with family life after the divorce of his parents. Charlie Sheen is a tower of strength for Lowe in this family drama.
179.7 Ter	The Terri Schiavo case [videorecording]	DVD	Three panelists discuss the legal and moral aspects of the right-to-die case involving Terry Schiavo.